3. Performance of Services

The photographer/videographer agrees to take photos/videos as per the service outline.

4. Session Fee

The photographer/videographer has the right to waive the session fee, rendering the rest of this clause null. The photographer/videographer will hold a session date and time only after the contract is signed and session fee is paid. The client may pay the session fee at the time of the session, however, the photographer/videographer will not hold the date and time. The photographer/videographer will not start the session until the session fee is paid. If a session needs to be rescheduled and the client has paid the session fee, the photographer/videographer will retain it.

5. Payment For Digital Files

The photographer/videographer will only deliver the finished photos/videos to the client only after payment is received in full.

6. Ownership of Digital Files

The photographer/videographer and the client enter a dual-ownership of the provided digital files after delivery. The client may use these files for personal or commercial reasons. The photographer/videographer may use these files as promotion, advertisement, portfolio pieces, social media posts, etc. The photographer/videographer will not post any photos involving any persons under the age of 18. The client shall not re-edit/crop any delivered photos/videos. The photographer/videographer will hold onto these files for a minimum of 6 months after delivery.

7. Display or Promotion

The photographer/videographer can display any photos/videos following the session on any website, social media platform, or internet promotion. The client may request the photographer/videographer to omit any websites from promotion, however, the photographer/videographer holds the right to deny such requests.

8. Limit of Liability

The photographer/videographer is only liable for the cost of the session that the client has put forward in the event that the photographer/videographer cannot fulfill the session. This would include illness, accidents, or any factor that the photographer/videographer cannot control.

9. Session Start

The client is given a 20 minute grace period when arriving for a session. If the client is not there within the allotted grace period, the photographer/videographer holds the right to leave and not refund the session fee.

10. Session Length

If the session length exceeds 7 hours, the client must provide a meal for the photographer/videographer in the event of food being served.

10. Weather Conditions

If the forecasted weather conditions for a session is poor, the photographer/videographer will send an alert to the client at least a day in advance. In this circumstance, the client holds the right to choose a different start time or reschedule the session altogether. If the client agrees to shoot during poor weather conditions, the photographer/videographer is not liable for final photo/video quality. The photographer/videographer holds the right to stop a session early if the weather conditions become too severe or threaten the safety of the photographer/videographer's gear.

11. Refunds/Cancellation Policy

The session fee is refundable so long as the client alerts the photographer/videographer of cancellation at least 48 hours before the session date. After the session, if the client wishes to cancel, the client forfeits the session fee. Disagreement with editing style or stylistic/aesthetic choices made by the photographer/videographer are not grounds for a refund. In the unlikely case that the final photos/videos get lost, stolen, corrupted, the photographer/videographer is to refund all payments.

12. Additional Photos

The photographer/videographer is to deliver the amount of photos/videos on the service outline. If the client wishes to receive additional photos, they are available for purchase at $10 per photo. The photographer/videographer will not supply additional videos. The photographer/videographer will not supply the client with any un-edited photos/videos

13. Employment

This contract is not to be construed as employment or any type of employment agreement between the client and the photographer/videographer.

14. Exclusive Photographer/Videographer

No photography/videography should take place at the session, whether amateur or professional, except for the photographer/videographer.

15. Harassment

If the photographer/videographer feels unsafe or uncomfortable during a session, the photographer/videographer is allowed to leave at any time. The session fee will not be refunded.

16. Injury

If a client is harmed or hurt during a session, the photographer/videographer does not assume responsibility. If the client is injured while attempting to fulfill any photographer/videographer request (such as poses) and has been warned by the photographer/videographer, the photographer/videographer does not assume responsibility.

17. No Oral Modification

This contract may only be amended in a writing signed by both the client and the photographer/videographer.

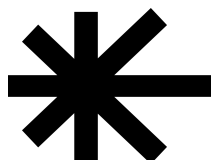

Signing this Agreement confirms that the client has read the terms above and both the client and the photographer/videographer agree to the terms above.
